AMERICAN GUILD OF ORGANISTS—TWIN CITIES CHAPTER

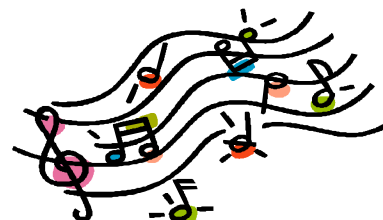

Student Scholarship Competition

by Mary Newton

The Competition committee is very pleased to announce that there are 10 students who will participate in this year's competition. It is very encouraging for all of us in the organ world, particularly as we look to the future, to know there are many serious young organists that are out there. Due to the amount of students playing, the competition will take place over two days: 6 students on Saturday April 5 and 4 students on Sunday, April 6. They will compete at Westwood Lutheran Church, located at 9001 Cedar Lake Road, St. Louis Park, Minnesota 55426, on the 50-rank Dobson organ. The public is cordially invited to attend all or part of the competition – Saturday from 10:00 am - 3:30 pm and Sunday from 2:00 pm - 5:00 pm. First prize of $1,500 is sponsored by the Schubert Club of St. Paul, and the second prize of $900 is provided by TCAGO member Philip Asgian. 🎵

Mark Sedio joins with the Augsburg College Choir in Hymn Festival

On Sunday, April 6 organist Mark Sedio will be joined by the Augsburg College Choir under the direction of Peter Hendrickson for a hymn festival at 3:00 pm at Central Lutheran Church. The event celebrates the completion of a year-long restoration project of Central's 108-rank 1963 Casavant by Casavant Frères, Lté. The festival, entitled "Songs of Light – Songs of Peace" will include congregational hymns, choral anthems (including one commissioned to honor TCAGO member Paul Emch) and readings from a variety of sources. A reception will follow in Central's Fellowship Hall. Central Lutheran is located at 333 South Twelfth Street just west of the Minneapolis Convention Center. Parking in Central's lot (across from the main south entrance) will be validated inside the South Commons entrance. 🎵

Dean's Column

Greetings,

The February executive board meeting had an unusually rigorous agenda. We discussed and approved the new fee and salary guidelines presented by the Professional Development Committee. Thanks to chair, Jeffrey Patry, and committee members, Robert Anderson, Megan Balda, Charles Fruhstuck, Michael Silhavy and Julie Urban for their efforts on behalf of us all. Chapter members are encouraged to abide by these standards and share them with music committees, clergy or others who are part of the compensation process.

The nominating committee presented the slate of candidates for this spring's election. They were approved; you will be receiving ballots and bios of the candidates for the 2008-2009 board soon. Thank-you co-chairs, Karen Bartz and Kraig Windschitl, and committee members Merritt Nequette, Lynn Trapp and Mary Joy Rieder for your deliberations and phone calls. The board agreed that all the candidates possess experience and enthusiasm that could well serve the chapter.

Phil Asgian reported on behalf of the education committee that the Pipe Organ Discovery Day (2/23) in Stillwater was a great success. Eleven students participated and enjoyed organ demonstrations by Nancy Whipkey and Laura Edman. Concurrently, the Winter Tune-Up at University Lutheran Church of Hope drew about 45 adult learners to workshops on easy organ repertoire, basic organ registration, and basic techniques and repertoire for handbells, small choirs and children's choirs. The Q&A session with Paul Manz was a great opportunity to hear from an inspiring, beloved sage among us.

Archivist, Jerry Bonstrom, regaled us with stories from our chapter's earliest days from his research for our centennial in 2010. Jerry has boxes ready to move to the Westminster archives for safe, climate controlled preservation.

The board approved the budget for the next fiscal year and looks forward to having increased revenue from a successful AGO 2008. Convention proceeds are split 50-50 between the chapter and national. Treasurer David Geslin spends a great amount of time managing the resources of both the TCAGO and the convention. Please tell him thanks next time you see him. It is a big job!

Lastly, I encourage your attendance at all of our guild events. Each and every one of them has something to offer to each and every one of you. Whether you play on a large or a small

CONVENTION CORNER

Volunteer Opportunities!

Mark W. Kieffer, mkieffer@visi.com

AGO 2008 is rapidly approaching and, as the final preparations for the convention are being made, we need YOUR help to make this convention the best one yet. Thousands of volunteer hours have already been put in by the members of the various committees planning every detail of the week's events. Now we are coming to you to help us with the literally hundreds of little details that need to be taken care of to make things run smoothly. Some of the areas where we will especially need help are: serving as a host for workshop sessions, staffing various registration and hospitality desks during the convention, and people who are willing to serve as ushers/greeters at concerts and worship services. We will also need help before and after the convention with various set-up and clean-up activities.

Over the past year, we have been asking chapter members to fill out the green "I can help" forms at chapter events. If you have already filled one of these out, someone will be in touch with you soon with more specifics. If you have not filled one of these out yet, not to worry. Members of the volunteer committee are in the process of attempting to contact every member of the chapter to see if and how you might be able to help out.

The steering committee wants to thank all of you who have so generously given of your time up to this point. We are confident that "many hands will make light work" and that the wonderful programming and hospitality of AGO 2008 will be the talk of the guild for years to come. ♪

By James Callahan

Organist John Scott will be performing a recital on the Gabriel Kney organ in the St. Thomas Aquinas Chapel at the University of St. Thomas on April 14th, 2008 at 8:15 pm.

John Scott is Organist and Director of Music at St. Thomas Church, Fifth Avenue in New York City. He was born in Wakefield, England and received his earliest musical training as a chorister at Wakefield Cathedral where he later served as Assistant Organist. While still in school he gained diplomas from the Royal College of Organists. From 1974-1978 he was

John Scott

Organ Scholar at St. John's College, Cambridge, where he served as assistant to George Guest. He also studied with Ralph Downes and Dame Gillian Weir. Upon leaving Cambridge, he was appointed Assistant Organist at London's two Anglican Cathedrals, St. Paul's and Southwark. During this time he was awarded the First Prize of the Manchester International Organ Competition and in 1984 became the first British musician ever to win the prestigious International J. S. Bach Organ Competition in Leipzig, Germany.

John Scott was long associated with St. Paul's Cathedral in London. In 1990 he was appointed Organist and Director of Music after serving there as Assistant Director of Music and Sub-Organist for five years under Christopher Dearnley. In addition to his duties at St. Paul's, John Scott served as Professor of Organ at the Royal Academy of Music and as Accompanist of the Bach Choir under Sir David Willcocks.

Under John Scott, the St. Paul's Cathedral Choir toured extensively in Europe, Japan, North and South America, made many acclaimed recordings, worked with most of the great English orchestras and gave world premiers of works commissioned especially for them. This is in addition the daily schedule of liturgical music for which the choir is famous.

As a concert organist, he is particularly known for his performances of large-scale romantic and 20th century repertoire and has premiered many works written for him by Petr Eben, Kenneth Leighton, and William Mathias, among others. He has performed with the Royal Philharmonic under Sir Charles Groves and the London Symphony with Michael Tilson Thomas. His career as a solo recitalist has taken him to the U.S., nearly every European country, Canada, Australia, the Far East, and South America. In November 1989 he inaugurated the new Rieger organ in the Hong Kong Cultural Centre and in 1990 was invited to concertize in Washington National Cathedral to celebrate its completion. Mr. Scott was a featured recitalist at the 1998 American Guild of Organists convention in Denver and was presented in recital in New York City as that AGO chapter's "International Performer of the Year," also in 1998.

He has many award-winning recordings to his name on the Guild, Hyperion, Nimbus and Priory labels, including the organ music of Elgar, Mathias, Dupré, and the complete organ works of Duruflé and Mendelssohn.

John Scott has participated in major organ festivals throughout the world, both as performer and competition judge. In 2000, he served on the jury for the second Dallas International Organ Competition held in Dallas, Texas, and in 2002 on the jury of the Chartres International Organ Competition (Grand Prix de Chartres). He was Chairman of the Jury for the third Dallas Competition in 2003. In 2007 he was awarded an honorary doctorate in music by Nashotah House in Wisconsin, an Episcopal-Anglican theological seminary.

Grace University Lutheran's Composer Residency

By Stephen Self

Grace University Lutheran Church is in the inaugural year of an innovative composer residency program that creates a valuable partnership with the University of Minnesota School of Music. Grace's residency employs a graduate student in music composition from the University to create several new works that are premiered in the church's worship services throughout the academic year. The residency will rotate to another graduate student at the beginning of the new academic year.

Eric Brook, a M.M. student at the University, is serving as the church's first resident composer. He has created three works to date: the first was a festive fanfare for brass and organ that was premiered on Reformation Sunday; the second was an anthem for children's choir based on Psalm 150 that was accompanied by members of the new music ensemble Zeitgeist at its first performance; and the third was a choral setting of "O Magnum Mysterium" premiered during the Epiphany season. His remaining two projects include a work for piano trio based on the passion hymn "Ah, Holy Jesus" for Palm Sunday, and a work for combined adult and youth choirs to be presented in May.

At the conclusion of the residency, the church will present a recital of Brook's works that includes not only works from the residency year, but also other works from his catalogue.

The selection process began with a brief presentation by Stephen Self, the organist/choir director at Grace, to the composition students from the University. Students who were interested in being considered submitted a résumé and two representative works. Each student was interviewed in person. The final decision was made by the church's worship and music committee in consultation with the composition faculty from the University.

The residency has been highly successful in every respect. The composer has commented frequently that it has been a very valuable learning experience for him. The ensembles for which works have been composed have grown musically and in their appreciation for new music. The congregation has been reminded that new music appropriate to both worship and the concert hall is still being created and can still have the depth associated with treasured worship repertoire. The church has also been reminded that part of our mission is to serve and strengthen ties with the University's constituencies. And the University has taken note of the openness of Grace church to nurture young and promising composers.

If you are interested in more information about the residency, please contact Stephen Self at music@graceattheu.org. 🎵

TCAGO Archive News

Jerry Bonstrom, Archivist

In preparing an inventory of the TCAGO archive items in my storage room that will soon reside at the newly completed Westminster Gallery archives space at Westminster Presbyterian Church, I came upon this undated, unidentified picture. There are seven, 8½ X 11 pictures of this man. Who is he? At the February TCAGO Board meeting, I asked if anyone could identify him. There was no response.

Besides the photo, I also brought to the Board meeting three pages from the November 1960 Pipenotes issue. That was our Golden Anniversary issue which included information about the celebration of our founding. A service was held at Plymouth Congregational Church followed by a banquet at the church. Our national president, Harold Heeremans gave an address at the banquet. The title of his address: "The Next Fifty Years." We've lived most of those "next fifty years." Our centennial is approaching. The Pipenotes issue for November 2010 will be our Centennial issue. Should we invite our current national president? Should he speak about the next 100 years?

Dr. Arthur Jennings was the organist/choir director at Plymouth Congregational in November 1960. This is what his prelude pieces were for our 50th Anniversary service:

- | | |
|-----------------|------------------------|
| • Fantasie in A | César Franck |
| • Greensleeves | Searle Wright |
| • Rhosymedre | Ralph Vaughan Williams |

On the cover of that November 1960 issue there are two pictures: Harold Heeremans and Arthur Jennings. Dr. Jennings had been retired as University of Minnesota professor/organist for four years by then. Could the unidentified photo be a young Arthur B. Jennings? As I compare photos, I see similarities. If you know the answer, please solve the mystery. Thanks. 🎵

Chris Gorsuch makes the Wurlitzer sing at the Phipps!

By John Potts

Chris Gorsuch will present a concert on the Wurlitzer theater pipe organ Sunday, April 20, 2:00 pm at The Phipps Center for the Arts in Hudson, Wisconsin.

Chris will highlight the music of George Gershwin, Cole Porter, and other Broadway greats in his premiere performance at The Phipps Center. Also featured will be reminiscences of acclaimed organists George Wright and Tom Hazelton, as well as a few surprises by this exciting California organist.

Chris Gorsuch

Mr. Gorsuch began his professional career at the age of 20, when he moved to San Diego to take a staff position with Organ Power Pizza restaurants. One of the instruments that he played was the famed five-manual Reginald Foort Traveling Moller theater pipe organ, now installed at the Pasadena Civic Center. While there, he gained invaluable knowledge in registration and phrasing as a student of Lyn Larsen. Over the years, many musicians have influenced Gorsuch's style. Music of the big band era is his particular favorite, as well as classical, jazz, and music of the '20s and '30s. He performs throughout North America.

Tickets are $21 for adults and $14 for all students with a current I.D. Reservations may be made by contacting The Phipps ticket office at 715.386.8409 or online at www.ThePhipps.org. 🎵

Saint Thomas Choir of Men and Boys in Concert at St. Olaf College

By Catherine Rodland

The world renowned Saint Thomas Choir of Men and Boys will sing in Boe Memorial Chapel at St. Olaf College on Tuesday, April 22 at 7:30 pm. The event is part of the celebration of the newly renovated chapel and the installation of the new Holtkamp organ.

The Saint Thomas Choir is considered by critics to be the leading ensemble in the Anglican choral tradition in the United States, and among the finest in the world. In the Gothic setting of Saint Thomas Church in New York, the choir performs regularly with period instrument ensemble, Concert Royal, or with the Orchestra of St. Luke's as part of its own Concert Series, yet its primary raison d'être is to provide music for five choral services each week. Choral Evensong is sung Tuesday through Thursday at 5:30 pm, with Sunday services at 11:00 am and 4:00 pm, a schedule which requires the preparation of approximately four hundred sacred choral works each year.

Supplementing its choral services and concert series, the choir has toured throughout the United States and Europe, most recently touring the United Kingdom in the summer of 2007 with performances in Edinburgh, Wakefield, Durham, York, and London. In 2004, the choir toured Italy and received a Papal audience at the Vatican. Other appearances have included performances at Lincoln Center with the New York Philharmonic, the Cleveland Orchestra, and alongside artists such as Jessye Norman and Plácido Domingo.

All choristers in the Saint Thomas Choir attend Saint Thomas Choir School, the only church affiliated residential choir school in the United States, and one of only four such schools remaining in the world. John Carson, son of AGO members Brian Carson and Catherine Rodland is in his third year at the school and will be travelling with the choir.

The musical leadership and direction of the choir is provided by one of the world's most gifted church musicians, Mr. John Scott. Prior to coming to Saint Thomas in August 2004, Mr.

Scott had been associated with Saint Paul's Cathedral in London, UK where he had been Organist and Director of Music since 1990, and before that Sub-Organist since 1984. Mr. Scott is an outstanding organist and choir-trainer who enjoys a reputation as a brilliant performer as well as a natural and highly effective teacher. Frederick Teardo is the Assistant Organist at Saint Thomas.

This event is free of charge, there will be no tickets available in advance. Plan to arrive early as seating is limited! 🎵
