AMERICAN GUILD OF ORGANISTS—TWIN CITIES CHAPTER

An Organ Spectacular! - TCAGO Celebrates the "International Year of the Organ" and the 25th Anniversary of Pipedreams!! (and more....!!!)

by Michael Barone

On Sunday, October 19, the world will be alive with the sound of Organ Music, and our TCAGO chapter will contribute to the sonority with a special event, a true Organ Spectacular!, at 3:00 pm that afternoon, featuring the recently restored 108-rank Casavant organ at Central Lutheran Church, Minneapolis.

This activity is a 'keystone' event in a month-long series of organ concerts and workshop/master classes, another Piping Hot! Festival in the Twin Cities, with full details online at www.pipedreams.org/festival.

The program on October 19 is in three parts. First, a mini-recital by Minnesota native Joseph Ripka www.josephripka.com, this year's winner of the Dublin International Organ Competition in Ireland and the Fort Wayne Competition in Indiana and the Elftman Competition in San Marino, California. Joseph is a student of James David Christie in the Artist Diploma program at the Oberlin Conservatory. Other teachers have included Charles Echols (St. Cloud

Joseph Ripka

State University) and James Higdon (University of Kansas). Ripka's program will observe the 2008 centenaries of Messiaen, Distler and Daniel Lesur, prelude the 85th birthday of Ned Rorem, and conclude with the Minnesota premiere of "Blythly Breezing Along" from the Baronian Suite of Stephen Paulus, a score commissioned by the AGO for these Organ Spectacular events.

We'll continue with a complete presentation of the new Minnesota Organ Book, works by Carol Barnett, Cary John Franklin, Linda Tutas Haugen, Monte Mason, David Evan Thomas, and Janike Vandervelde, performed by TCAGO organists Jonathan Gregoire, Andrew Hackett and Lily Ardan, plus assisting musicians (on violin, cello, steel drum, saxophone, flute and trumpet).

Dean's Column

I am hoping that you are comfortably back into your fall schedule...planning for Advent and Christmas.

I remind you that this is the International Year of the Organ. Many programs/recitals are being planned to remind people of the importance and beauty of the organ. Our local BIG day is Sunday, October 19. We will have a smashing program at Central Lutheran Church at 3:00 pm and there will be a recital at St. Olaf Catholic Church at 7:30 pm. Plan to attend... see articles in Pipenotes for more information. Be alerted to Piping Hot II... several days of not-to-be-missed recitals, workshops/master classes. All are free.

We ALL have been asked to include Ornament of Grace by Bernard Wayne Sanders in our Prelude on Sunday, October 19 (or on another date). It is a lovely, easy, rather short piece that won First Prize in the recent National AGO Composition Competition. It is scored for organ and C-instrument (violin or oboe suggested). It is available from Concordia Publishing.

I have recently had the privilege to take a Mediterranean cruise and visit several places of great historical and religious significance, including Istanbul, Mykonos, Ephesus, Venice and Florence. A highlight for me was the Basilique Notre-Dame de la Garde (Our Lady of the Guard) high, high on a hill above the beautiful port of Marseille. It is one of the most totally unbelievable places I have ever seen. Put it on your list of places to visit.

I look forward to seeing many of you at some of the upcoming events. If we do not know each other, please introduce yourself.

As a grand finale, three notable TCAGO talents, Aaron David Miller, David Cherwien, and Donald Livingston, will engage in some collaborative improvisations, a kind of tag-team activity utilizing both the Casavant chancel organ and the small Van Daalen 'antiphonal' organ in the rear balcony. Both the provided themes and the organists themselves will be very active!

Michael Barone, PIPEDREAMS host, will serve as master-of-ceremonies, and after the performance invites everyone to join him for a gala PIPEDREAMS 25th Anniversary Reception in the Social Hall.

Come one, come all, for a true ORGAN SPECTACULAR!!!!

But wait...there's more!!!...prepare your ears for a Sonic Spectacular!!!

On Friday, October 24 at 7:30 pm at St. Andrew's Lutheran Church in Mahtomedi, we welcome guest organist John Walker (formerly of Riverside Church, NYC, and Shadyside Presbyterian Church, Pittsburgh) for what may be the Twin Cities premiere performance of a marvelously colorful Concerto for Organ and Percussion by Lou Harrison. John, who also will play a movement from the richly romantic Organ Sonata by his former teacher Herbert Nanney, will join Bill Chouinard, Dean Billmeyer and Michael Barone for a program of major music for organ-plus...scores by Ron Nelson, David Maslanka, Marcel Dupré, Percy Grainger and others, combining the robust resources of St. Andrew's landmark 1927 Casavant (rebuilt in 2005 by Schantz, also 108 ranks) with the University of Minnesota Wind and Percussion Ensembles (led by Craig Kirchhoff and Fernanço Meza)...creating a true Sonic Spectacular!

Elsewhere in this issue of Pipenotes you'll find information regarding the workshop/master class activities by the four Piping Hot! guest artists (John Weaver at Bethel University on 10/3-4; Gail Archer at Wayzata Community Church on 10/10-11; Olivier Vernet at House of Hope Presbyterian on 10/25-26, and Pamela Decker at the University of St. Thomas on 10/25, 27).

As you can see by checking the online calendar at www.pipedreams.org/calendar and the further listings here in Pipenotes, October (and November) will provide a rich variety of opportunities for organists and organ music lovers. We hope you will arrange your schedules to attend as many events as possible...and bring friends with you! Spread the word, support TCAGO, and celebrate the King of Instruments during this remarkable International Year of the Organ! 🎵

Dr. Archer is director of the music program at Barnard College of Columbia University and a member of the Music History faculty at Manhattan School of Music and Vassar College. She holds a DMA in organ performance from the Manhattan School of Music and an Artist Diploma from the Boston Conservatory. This year Gail presented Messiaen's six major organ works, each in a different Manhattan church. The New York Times review: "Ms. Archer's well-paced interpretation had a compelling authority. She played with a bracing physicality in the work's more driven passages and endowed humbler ruminations with a sense of vulnerability and awe." (Jan.2008)

VocalEssence, St. Olaf Choir present "Musique de France"

by Laura Holst

The magnificent acoustic of Cathedral of Saint Paul is the perfect setting for an evening of sacred French music. Philip Brunelle, artistic director of VocalEssence, and Anton Armstrong, conductor of The St. Olaf Choir, have selected some of the most inspiring French choral and orchestral music for Musique de France.

The performance takes place on Friday evening, October 17, 2008 at 8:00 pm. For tickets and information, call 612-371-5656 (800-292-4141) or visit www.vocalescence.org/france.

The 200 voices of VocalEssence and The St. Olaf Choir will join forces to perform Berlioz's monumental Te Deum, calling for the titanic forces of a tenor soloist, two three-part choruses, treble chorus, organ and a full orchestra that includes a cadre of twelve harps. Dan Dressen, head of the music department at St. Olaf College, will be the featured soloist. Considered one of his "architectural" works, Berlioz composed his Te Deum to be performed in the vast, spacious acoustic of a Cathedral, like that of the Cathedral of Saint Paul.

Edward Berryman Remembered

A memorial service for Edward Berryman was held on Sept. 6 at 2:00 pm at Westminster Presbyterian Church in Minneapolis.

The following obituary on Edward Berryman was printed in the Star Tribune:

Edward Berryman, 88, organist and pianist

<http://www.startribune.com/obituaries/27413644.html?elr=KArksUUUU>

By TONY KENNEDY, Star Tribune

August 25, 2008

Playing an electronic keyboard for two hours each morning in the basement of his Wayzata home was part of what made Edward Berryman an exceptional musician.

The organist and pianist, who died Friday at 88, made a national name for himself by teaching, directing church music, playing concerts and recording.

"He was best known for his improvisations, and his repertoire included hundreds, if not thousands of pieces he committed to memory," said Tom Rowland of Minneapolis, who took lessons from Berryman for more than 35 years.

Berryman's credentials included performances for the syndicated public radio program "Pipedreams," which highlights organ music.

"He was a patient teacher who tried to find artistry in each of his students," Rowland said.

"He was gregarious, very friendly, easy-going and warm-hearted," said Karen Sandness of Minneapolis, Berryman's stepdaughter. "Many of his students just adored him."

Besides continuous work as a private tutor, Berryman, who moved to the Twin Cities from Omaha in the 1940s, taught organ and piano at Macalester College in St. Paul, Northwestern College in Roseville and the University of Minnesota, where he was the university's organist in the mid-1950s.

Rowland said Berryman's father, Cecil, and mother, Alice, were concert pianists who studied in Paris. Berryman's two brothers also were professional musicians, Rowland said.

From 1950 to 1959 Berryman was music director at Cathedral Church of St. Mark in the Loring Park neighborhood of Minneapolis.

He left Minnesota to study church music at Union Theological Seminary in New York. He returned with a doctorate in sacred music and worked as organist and choirmaster from 1962 to 1987 at Westminster Presbyterian Church in downtown Minneapolis.

"He was an organ virtuoso of the highest order," said Charles Scarborough, another student of Berryman.

"After retiring from Westminster, Berryman focused more on teaching and had many private pupils in organ and piano," Sandness said.

He had suffered from Alzheimer's disease during the last couple years of his life, but he retained his musical ability, she said.

He is survived by his wife, Maria; three stepchildren; a brother, Warren, of Denver, and four grandchildren. ♪

PREMIERE OF CONCERTO FOR ORGAN BY CARY JOHN FRANKLIN

by Diana Lee Lucker

As Music Director of the Civic Orchestra of Minneapolis, I have collaborated on several performances with Diana Lee Lucker on The C. Charles Jackson Pipe Organ at Wayzata Community Church. So it seemed natural for Diana Lee to ask me to write a piece for her and the organ and the Civic Orchestra. At our first meeting about the project she encouraged me to "think outside the box" about this piece. On one hand that opened up a lot of possibilities and on the other it gave me quite a challenge. I needed to leave the safe realm of the standard three-movement concerto and its formulaic fast-slow-fast structure.

I usually spend a great deal of time thinking about a piece and reading before I put any notes to the page. I came across a little book by James Thurber, The Last Flower. Originally published in November 1939, two months after World War II officially began, Thurber's parable in pictures – a graphic novel ahead of its day – is about the eternal cycles of war, peace and love. It expresses a simple deep truth: the unending cycle of birth, death and rebirth.

The story is told with a few well-chosen words combined with several line drawings. Civilization has collapsed after World War XII, dogs have deserted their masters, all the groves and gardens have been destroyed, and love has vanished from the earth. Then one day, "a young girl who has never seen a flower chanced to come upon the last one in the world." I was enthralled with this little book and its message and decided to use it as the structure for my piece, The Last Flower: Fantasy for Organ and Orchestra. The work is in a single movement that follows the narrative structure of the book.

With permission from the publisher, we plan on projecting images from the book as the piece is being played.

Cary John Franklin

My music making with Cary John Franklin has always been a joy and so I could think of no composer better equipped to compose a "new" concerto for organ and orchestra. My intent, with this newly-commissioned work, was to celebrate the 10 year anniversary of the installation of the Charles Hendrickson 71-rank tracker organ in the new sanctuary of Wayzata Community Church. The purchase of this instrument was made possible by a large contribution to the project by the late C. Charles Jackson after whom the instrument is named.

I will be the organ soloist, and together with the Civic Orchestra of Minneapolis, a multi-media presentation and Cary John Franklin directing, we hope to bring James Thurber to life.

The premiere performance will take place on Sunday, November 2, at 3:00 pm at Wayzata Community Church, 125 E. Wayzata Blvd Wayzata, Minnesota.

Evensong for All Saints Day: the Requiem of Maurice Duruflé

By James Frazier

The choir of Saint John the Evangelist Episcopal Church in Saint Paul will sing Evensong for All Saints Day on November 2nd at 4:00 pm, followed by a performance of the Requiem of Maurice Duruflé. The guest organist will be Helen Jensen, the alto soloist Krista Palmquist, and the choir will be conducted by James Frazier, organist and director of music at the church.

All Saints Day actually falls on November 1, when the church celebrates the communion of all the saints in glory. All Souls Day, on November 2nd, is the day on which the church prays for the dead.

Duruflé originally began writing an organ suite based on the Gregorian chants from the Mass for the Dead, but it remained unfinished. When he received a commission for a symphonic poem from the Vichy government in 1940, he took it as an incentive to expand the organ suite into a large requiem mass for orchestra, choir, soloists and organ. Its first performances, after the war, were received as memorials to those who died in defense of France, though the work is dedicated to the memory of his father.

The Requiem can be performed with any of three versions of accompaniment: one for large orchestra and organ, another for reduced orchestra and organ, and the third for solo organ. The version for solo organ is technically very demanding and places virtuosic demands on the organist.

St. John's is located at 60 Kent Street: one block east of Dale and one block north of Summit. There is off-street parking on Summit and Kent. The church is handicap accessible from Kent Street. A free-will offering will be received and a festive reception will follow the service. For further information contact Jim Frazier at 651 228-1172 x38. 🎵
