Saturday, February 8 – 8:30 a.m. - noon – Workshops
St. Philip the Deacon Lutheran Church, Plymouth

Friday night, John Schwandt will present a free concert, and on Saturday morning, he will lead workshops on improvisation and the creative use of organ in worship.

James Hammann will present a workshop on the organ music of Felix Mendelssohn. Refreshments precede the workshops, and a group lunch is planned following the morning events.

The concert on Friday is free and open to the public. Dr. Schwandt will improvise on several audience-submitted tunes, so please think ahead and prepare some exciting and unique options!!!

A link to the Saturday workshop registration is online at tcago.org “Event Registration,” or contact Jeremy.Haug@mountcalvary.org (612-578-8058). The workshop is free.

You do not need to participate in all portions of the two-day event, come when you can and stay as long as you wish.

This event is co-sponsored by TCAGO, St. Philip the Deacon Lutheran Church, 17205 County Road 6, Plymouth, and Schantz Organ Company.

John D. Schwandt is Associate Professor of Organ and Director of the American Organ Institute at the University of Oklahoma School of Music. He is a nationally-acclaimed performer and is in demand as a clinician, recitalist, leader of hymn festivals, silent film accompanist, and organ consultant. Dr. Schwandt has been a featured performer for the American Guild of Organists (AGO), the American Theatre Organ Society (ATOS), and the Organ Historical Society (OHS). He has been featured numerous times on American Public Media’s Pipedreams broadcasts.

Equally at home on a classical or theatrical pipe organ, he is known for his musical versatility and ability to excite and engage audiences of every kind.

John Schwandt has served churches as a parish musician in Wisconsin, Minnesota, and Indiana. Most recently, he served as Artist-in-Residence at McFarlin United Methodist Church in Norman, and is currently Artist-in-Residence at East Lake United Methodist Church in Birmingham, Alabama.

Many thanks to Kathrine Handford for bringing Bertrand Cattiaux to the Twin Cities and Michael Barone for hosting the presentation on French organs at MPR in January. Bertrand’s comments, pictures and recordings of great French organs provided an historical account of the development of the pipe organ in France. The morning session enlightened attendees of the contributions of Clicquot, Cavaille-Coll, and Bertrand’s experience with the restoration of many of these instruments. This was a wonderful program to kick off our 2014 offerings.

Our All New February Tune-up is around the corner – Friday, February 7, and Saturday, February 8. We are pleased to welcome Dr. John Schwandt and Dr. James Hammann who will present workshops on improvisation, the creative use of the organ in worship, and the music of Felix Mendelssohn. The venue is St. Philip the Deacon in Plymouth, and we have an opportunity to hear the Schantz organ in a concert on Friday evening when Dr. Schwandt will perform and improvise on submitted themes.

The focus on youth and the pipe organ continues in our Pipe Organ Discovery Day to be held at The House of Hope Presbyterian Church on Saturday, February 22. Phil Asgian hosts and prepares a wonderful introduction to the organ with hands-on opportunities for children. Encourage the young people in your church to attend!

It is that time of year, and the Nominating Committee will be making calls for board member and officer positions. If you are called, please consider saying yes. It is a great way to volunteer and give back to our organization. Be prepared to work with talented and creative colleagues who keep TCAGO looking toward the future.

Hope to see you February 7 and 8 at the All New February Tune-Up.

James Hammann has recently retired as co-chair of the music department at The University of New Orleans and relocated from there to Iowa Falls, Iowa, where he is the proud owner of an historic Lustron Home. During his twenty years at UNO he taught organ, harpsichord, theory, and music history. He is presently serving St. Matthew’s by the Bridge Episcopal Church in Iowa Falls as their organist. Dr. Hammann holds degrees in organ performance and church music from Ohio Wesleyan University and The University of Michigan. His major teachers include Rexford Keller, Robert Clark, and Marilyn Mason.

Hammann’s conducting credits include a recent three-year tenure as music director of The New Orleans Civic Symphony, a four year stint as music director of The Allen Park Symphony, and conductor of the Southeastern Michigan Choral Society. He was named “Artist of the Year” by the Toledo Arts Commission in 1978 for his founding and conducting of The Little Orchestra Society of Toledo.

Hammann has played organ recitals throughout the United States, and has given over one hundred performances of his one man show, “Old Bach,” where he dons costume and wig to recreate moments in the composer’s life and play representative selections on the organ and harpsichord. He holds the Associate Diploma from the AGO.

The annual Pipe Organ Discovery Day is sponsored by the TCAGO. This is a superb opportunity for young students with some keyboard experience and an interest in learning more about the pipe organ, to have a “hands on” opportunity.

As part of the day’s events, an education program on the pipe organ will also be provided. Photos and more information about Pipe Organ Discovery Days is available at the TCAGO web site at www.tcago.org – click on the Education tab and then click on Pipe Organ Discovery Day. This is also the place to pre-register (required) for the day.

Students and guests will have an opportunity to play three different organs during the course of the day, learn about the organ and experience the carillon at House of Hope. Those playing the organ do need prior keyboard experience.

A free pizza-lunch is included. Parents and family members are welcome to attend as well.

Laulupidu in Tallinn, Estonia

June 27 - July 7

Mark Sedio, Cantor at Central Lutheran Church together with his spouse Jeff Sartain, Executive Minister at Plymouth Congregational Church have put together a tour to the Baltic States this summer, the primary focus of which is to attend the All-Estonia Song Festival (Laulupidu) in Tallinn, Estonia.

The laulupidu - one of the world’s largest choral events - takes place only every five years. Imagine 20,000 people singing in the stage/shell of the Song Festival Grounds (Lauluväljak) - 100,000 people seated on the hill joining them occasionally in song. If you’ve seen the excellent documentary The Singing Revolution (http://www.singingrevolution.com) you’re most likely familiar with the event.

The tour will take place from June 27 through July 7 (the Laulupidu takes place on July 6).

Other places included on the itinerary are Vilnius, Lithuania (for centuries a crossroads of cultures and a center of Jewish learning with many architectural gems), Riga, Latvia (a jewel of a city with tons of Hanseatic red brick architecture and its own particular brand of Art Nouveau plus one of Europe’s largest organs (!) in the Riga Dom), Tallinn (with its amazing Medieval center), the Estonian island of Saaremaa (a stone Teutonic fortress, windmills and strange small crater lakes) and Cesis (an incredibly well preserved off-the-beaten-path Latvian town).

For a complete brochure and more information, contact Mark Sedio at (612) 767-9230 or msedio@centralmpls.org.

News from the National AGO

...and elsewhere

Organ blower rooms

This was an article in the Westchester AGO newsletter.

In early May 2013, an organist was invited to play the 25th anniversary recital on an organ for which he served as consultant in 1987 (Möller IV/58) at St. Joseph’s Roman Catholic Church in Bronxville, New York.

A week or so before the recital, when the parish's director of music, John Peter Strybos, went to the organ loft to practice and turned the organ on, he heard a horrific noise emanating from the blower room (which is adjacent to the choir loft). Upon further investigation, it seems the parish sexton unwittingly stored some loose black plastic bags on the floor of the blower room near the blower intake. When the blower started up, it drew the bags in, shredded them and blew scraps and plastic dust throughout the instrument, rendering the organ unplayable. What didn't get shredded melted inside the blower. Early estimates predict that perhaps $5 of plastic bags may have caused up to $100,000 in damage.

A favorable settlement has been reached with the insurance company, and a contract for the costly restoration has been awarded, with work scheduled to begin in January of 2014.

NEA Grant for Boston National Convention

F. Anthony Thurman, DMA Director of Development and Communications

The American Guild of Organists (AGO) has been awarded a grant by the National Endowment for the Arts (NEA) to support the 2014 AGO National Convention in Boston, Mass., June 23–27, 2014. The $15,000 NEA “Art Works” grant is directed to support performances, educational workshops, publication of the Boston Organ Book, and new music premieres. The grant carries a mandate that it be matched dollar for dollar from other funding sources. The 2014 AGO National Convention is the fifth consecutive AGO National Convention that has garnered funding from the arts endowment.

The 2014 AGO National Convention will augment and enrich cultural life in New England and beyond through performances by outstanding solo artists and choral and instrumental ensembles in the city’s concert halls and houses of worship, educational workshops, and presentations of scholarly papers. In addition, the Guild has commissioned fourteen composers renowned for artistic excellence, totaling more than 100 minutes of new music.

Premier performances will be presented of commissioned works from: Carol Barnett, Lisa Bielawa, Carson Cooman, Pamela Decker, Libby Larsen, David Lasky, Matthew Martin, Nico Muhly, Betty Olivero, Scott Perkins, Robert Sirota, Hilary Tann, Edward Thompson, and James Woodman. Serving to highlight Boston’s heritage of American musical composition, six historic compositions by Boston composers will be grouped with six new music commissions to form the Boston Organ Book, a publication to be distributed to all convention registrants to encourage performances for the benefit of the public.
Silent Auction in Boston
The AGO National Council will sponsor a Silent Auction at the AGO National Convention in Boston in June 2014. The proceeds will benefit the Annual Fund, which covers the expenses of educational programs, Pipe Organ Encounters, professional certification programs, competitions, conventions, January Jubilees, and other costs of running the organization. The auction will be run online so that all AGO members and friends may participate, and not just those attending the national convention.

A number of members of the Council have already given items and services for the Silent Auction. These include two round-trip coach airfares to Europe, two expensive bottles of wine, workshops, and CD recordings. We would like to invite Chapters to promote the auction, including donation of items that might be interest to the AGO membership. This might include time share vacations, new scores and books, complimentary registration to a regional convention, a recital or workshop.

Donors will need to establish a reasonable value for each item and a recommended starting bid. For tangible items (books, CDs, artwork, rental equivalency of a time share week, concert tickets), the value should be tax deductible, but check with your tax professional. Unfortunately, services (lessons, a recital or workshop) are not tax deductible. The AGO will set a minimum starting bid where none is advised by the donor.

What to do with the donated items? Wait until you hear who the winning bidder was, and then mail/ship the item to the winning bidder. Shipping expense is to be covered by the donor. Items for which there is no bid will be kept by the donors.

We would like to have a complete list of auction items, and a photograph of each item, by 1 May 2014 in order to prepare the auction. The online auction will begin 1 June 2014 and end on 30 June 2014.

For further information about where to send your list of donation items, photos of them, and stated values with minimum bids for each item, contact F. Anthony Thurman Director of Development and Communications at 212-870-2311 (ext. 4308) or email fathurman@agohq.org.
